GIS Communications

GIS Communications provides communication and enrollment solutions to engage employees and deliver a seamless voluntary benefits program. Our team of experienced and licensed benefit experts strive to save employers time, effort and money while also educating and connecting employees.

-  Engage
Our holistic approach ensures that employees realize the total value of the benefits you offer.
-  Educate
Through tailored communication strategies we ensure employees understand the full value of their entire benefits package.
-  Enroll
We provide the service and tools to manage benefits year round-from annual enrollment to new hires to qualified status changes. We offer phone, onsite and online enrollment of both core & voluntary worksite benefits.

Comprehensive or À La Carte Services to Meet Your Needs

Ancillary and Voluntary Benefits

We deliver a comprehensive enrollment and benefits administration solution powered by the latest technology. Our team ensures that the entire enrollment process from program design, to implementation, to project management, to communication, to post enrollment and future enrollments runs smoothly.

Voluntary worksite benefits fill gaps in benefit packages and can help reduce turnover. These benefits feature convenient payroll-deducted premium, flexible choices to fit any situation and budget, and portability in the event of a job change or retirement. GIS Communications develops an offering of benefits that works well with existing offerings, negotiates favorable underwriting and helps employees understand how their benefits work together.
